

WK02AS02 - Pricing Table

In this assignment, you're to use HTML and CSS to create a simple pricing table for an imaginary service you provide. It could range from selling foods to providing cloud services. Your page should have the following:

- At least 3 different price packages, with a name and image for each price package.
- A list of the features of that comes with each package
- A button on the bottom of each price package